

Important Update Regarding Frozen FinEx ETF Holdings

We would like to inform you that the National Settlement Depository's (NSD) account at Euroclear remains subject to restrictions which currently prevent any movement of assets, including FinEx ETF shares, from being transferred in or out of this account. These restrictions arise from the wider geopolitical and sanctions environment and are not related to the financial performance or management of the FinEx ETFs themselves.

We recognise the importance of this situation to all investors and continue to monitor legal and regulatory developments closely and are exploring all options. In the case of any development that enables the unfreezing or restructuring of these holdings, we will inform investors promptly.

We appreciate your understanding and patience and remain available to answer general questions within the limits permitted by current sanctions regulations.

Kind regards,

FinEx team
